Hammonton Residents Can Now Use SeeClickFix To Report Non-Emergency Issues

Hammonton, NJ – In an effort to increase communication with residents and promote transparency, the Town of Hammonton has adopted the use of the digital communication and reporting platform SeeClickFix.

SeeClickFix allows citizens to report non-emergency issues right from their phone or on the town's website. Residents can easily report the location of the issue, upload photos and track the status of the report. In turn, SeeClickFix helps administration collect, manage, and respond to requests efficiently and effectively.

"Residents are relying more on digital communication, and it's important that we respond to that need," said Mayor Steve DiDonato. "The use of SeeClickFix will allow us to respond to non-emergency issues and keep citizens aware of our progress. It is an effort to be more transparent and accountable to the citizens of the Town of Hammonton."

SeeClickFix will be implemented at no cost and will be offered under the countywide license retained by the Atlantic County Utilities Authority (ACUA). Brigantine, Northfield and Ventnor currently use the program, and residents throughout the county serviced by ACUA can use it to report bucket requests and missed collections.

Residents interested in using the program can download the app onto their phones or access it on the Town of Hammonton, ACUA or SeeClickFix websites.
